Access to Public Lands

There are approximately nine million acres of national forest and 13 million acres of BLM lands in New Mexico. NMDOW recommends contacting the appropriate land management agency prior to hunting. Many public lands in New Mexico are interspersed with privately owned property and private landowners have the right to control the use of their private lands. Where no public access exists, sportsmen/women must obtain written permission from the landowner or leaseholder to cross private land for access to public land. It is unlawful for anyone to post or restrict lawful use of public land. Trapping is prohibited on all public lands (see page 132-134 for details and exceptions).

National Parks and Monuments

National parks and national monuments are closed to hunting, except the following BLM managed national monuments:

All hunters and participants in any firearm hunt on Valles Caldera National Preserve (VCNP), except turkey hunters using shotguns, must wear a minimum of 244 square inches of blaze orange. A special-use permit fee ($35) and 7-day entrance fee ($25) must be paid. The VCNP honors any National Park Service (NPS) pass to waive the $25 entrance fee. This includes NPS Annual, Lifetime, Senior, Military, Volunteer and Access passes in addition to the America the Beautiful Pass. Hunters must obtain a special-use permit and are required to attend an orientation before hunting on VCNP. Forest Service Lands

Most national forest lands in New Mexico are open to public hunting and fishing. Each national forest requires outfitters and guides to obtain a permit to provide services. Vehicle-use restrictions may apply on Forest Service properties. Specific roads are closed in some national forests to protect natural resources. It is unlawful to use vehicles in areas closed under the Habitat Protection Act. Late Season Road Closures: If intending to utilize roads through Forest Service or BLM property, it is advisable to contact the appropriate land management field office beforehand for late-season or winter closures and other access restrictions.

Stay Informed about Controlled Burns

The U.S. Forest Service and other public-land management agencies routinely conduct controlled burns in forested areas during the fall months. Prescribed fires maintain a diverse and healthy forest ecosystem and improve wildlife habitat. Hunters are encouraged to be aware before their hunt and check <https://nmfireinfo.com> for burn advisories. No refunds will be offered if a controlled burn is conducted in your hunt area.
